The screenshot shows a web browser window titled "dillearning". The page header says "Chat with Dillearning AI. You can talk about any topic to practice your learning". The chat history includes:

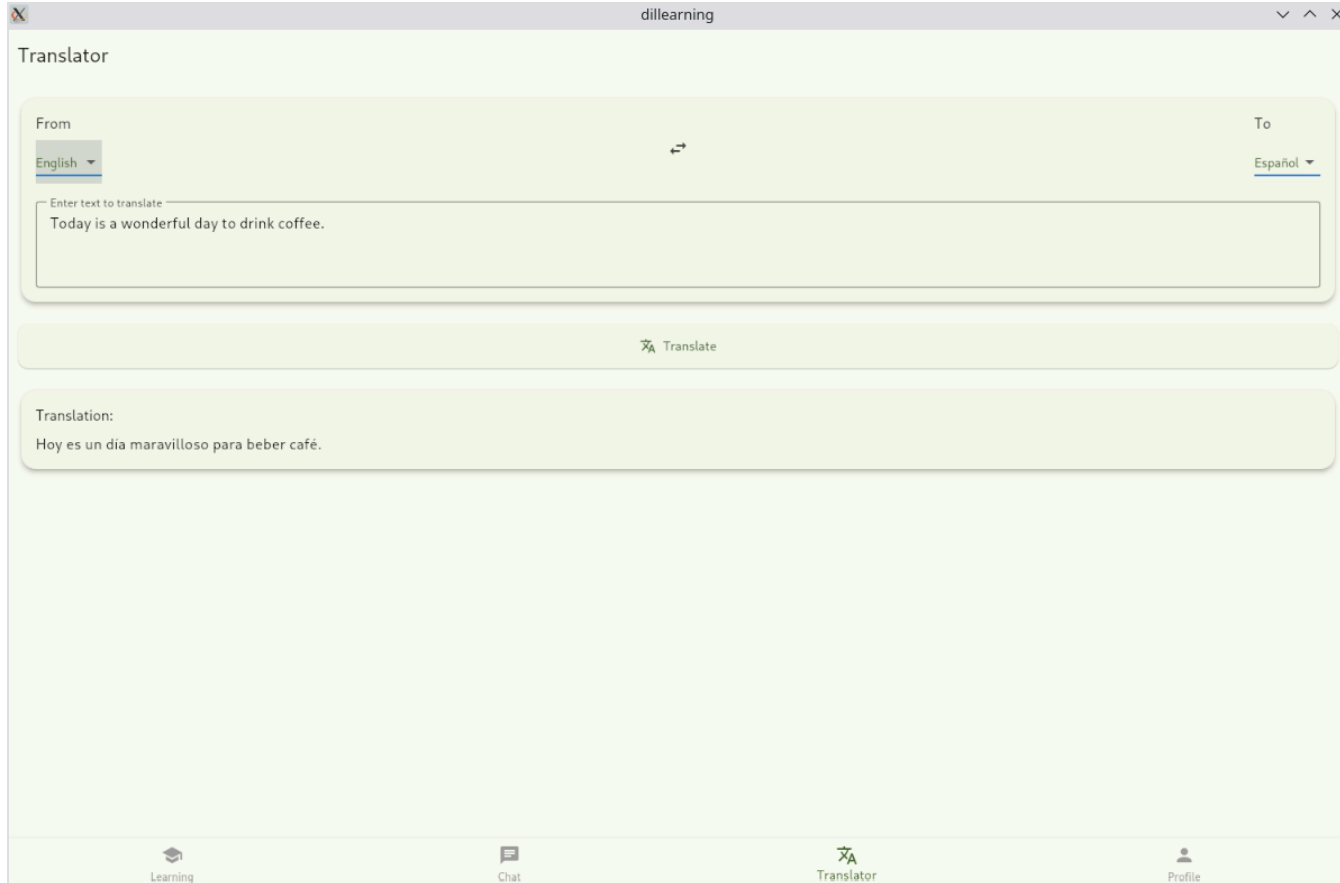

- AI: ¡Hola Adrian! Estoy bien, gracias por preguntar. Es un placer conocerte y sí, estaré encantado de ayudarte a aprender y practicar inglés. ¿Hay algún tema o área específica en la que te gustaría comenzar? (00:26)
- User: Let's write in English! (00:27)
- AI: That sounds like fun! Let's start with something simple and familiar. Could you tell me about your day today? What did you do? We can practice describing activities, emotions, or anything else that comes to mind. How does that sound? (00:27)
- User: Give me some examples about present tense. (00:27)
- AI: Absolutely, learning the present tense is a great start in English! The present tense is used to describe actions that are happening now, habits, or general truths. Here are some examples:
 - 1. Simple Present (for habitual actions):
 - I read a book every night before bed.
 - She works as a teacher at the local school.
 - 2. Present Continuous (for actions happening right now):
 - Right now, I am writing an email to my friend.
 - They are playing soccer in the park this afternoon.
 - 3. Present Perfect (for actions that started in the past and continue to the present or have recently been completed):
 - I have lived in New York for five years.
 - Have you finished your homework yet?
 - 4. Present Simple with "always":
 - He always arrives on time for work.
 - 5. Using "do" or "does" to form questions:
 - Do you like pizza?
 - Does she travel a lot?

Feel free to try forming some sentences using these examples as a model! If you have specific scenarios in mind, let me know and we can practice together. (00:27)

At the bottom, there is a text input field labeled "Type a message" and a navigation bar with icons for Learning, Chat, Translator, and Profile.

Basic Greetings

1.1 Basic Greetings

Objective:

The goal of this section is to introduce the learner to the most commonly used greetings in the target language. These greetings are essential in daily communication and are among the first phrases that language learners should master. Understanding and using greetings correctly will help you make a positive impression and start conversations confidently.

Concept Explanation:

In most languages, greetings serve as the foundation for starting interactions. Greetings can vary based on time of day, formality, and the context of the conversation. In this section, we will focus on greetings that are used in everyday situations and their cultural significance.

Common Basic Greetings:

- "Hola" – Hello (informal, used with friends, family, and peers)
 - Example: "¡Hola, ¿cómo estás?" – "Hello, how are you?"
 - Cultural Tip: "Hola" is widely used in Spanish-speaking countries and is appropriate in both casual and semi-formal settings.
- "Buenos días" – Good morning (literally "good days", used until noon)
 - Example: "Buenos días, ¿cómo te va?" – "Good morning, how's it going?"
 - Cultural Tip: This greeting is often used in the morning until approximately 12 PM. It's a respectful, polite way to greet someone early in the day.
- "Buenas tardes" – Good afternoon (used from noon to sunset)
 - Example: "Buenas tardes, ¿qué tal?" – "Good afternoon, how's everything?"
 - Cultural Tip: "Buenas tardes" is used to greet people after 12 PM until the evening. It's polite and commonly used in both casual and formal settings.
- "Buenas noches" – Good evening / Good night (used after sunset and before going to bed)
 - Example: "Buenas noches, ¿cómo te fue hoy?" – "Good evening, how was your day?"
 - Cultural Tip: "Buenas noches" can be used either as a greeting in the evening or as a way to say good night. It is more formal than "hola."
